TOO MUCH SHUSHING

We imagine that the censorship authorities have considered from time to time the wisdom of invoking censorship on airplane crashes in this country. They might figure that the numerous accidents, and publication of the news, is bad for "morale" of civilians and military men alike. They might think that by suppressing such news people would get the idea that there are not many accidents, and would jog along more contentedly.

But, even though news of accidents is always bad news—and tragic for the relatives and friends of the men killed—we hope the time never comes when censorship authorities say that such news shouldn't be published. If this were shut out—and entirely too many things have already been shut out—then rumors and reports would be circulating right and left, being magnified as they made the rounds of tongues.

As it is, the reports of accidents hit the people hard, but it does make them realize that the war is deadly serious business. There are a terrific number of plane crashes. Two Ocala boys have lost their lives in such accident, and thousands have been killed in the hundreds of accidents.

But we don't think that the number of accidents is out of line with the enormous amount of flying going on in the country. There are too many, yes indeed. But war is not a safe business. The risks that flyers take at home is nothing to the risks on the warfronts.—Ocala Banner.

HUNGER WILL NOT WAIT FOREVER

Fat-bellied Reichsmarshal Hermann Goering told the conquered peoples Sunday that if anybody suffers the "pangs of hunger" this winter it is not going to be Germany.

Speaking at the annual harvest festival, the be-medaled Goering warned the subjugated nations "from how on it must be an unshakable policy that German workmen and those working in Germany be supplied with food the best of all."

The reichsmarshal dangled food before the famished and miserable Nazi-dominated peoples as the price of collaboration.

It was bait to end the increasing unrest in France and other German-occupied areas.

Every device has been used to supply German factories with manpower. When brute force failed, Hitler tried more subtle methods. Unemployment in the home country was created by shutting down local plants. War factory employees were given special food rations. Seemingly high wages were awarded "volunteers."

Despite the fact that an estimated 4,000,000 foreign laborers are now employed in Germany, Hitler is ominously short of workers. The Vichy government's threat to conscript Frenchmen for German industry has met with stubborn resistance. Goering's speech was plain notice that unless the conquered peoples work for Germany they could starve.—Miami Herald.

THE STAY LONGER TOURIST

The St. Petersburg chamber of commerce has for a generation run the most complete and reliable tourist registration service in the nation. Registration opened Sept. 1, operating under exactly same conditions as last year. Score for first 12 days: 309 registrations compared with 681 a year ago. Most remarkable fact is that one-third reported they had arrived as permanent residents, another third for the season, the balance for from a day to four months.

For years the trend has been for the duration of stay to be for shorter and shorter periods. Residents, the tourist wandered on rubber-foam and wide. This year most come to stay in one spot. The total tourist days represented by the 309 (counting permanent residents as for nine months) exceeded the tourist days of the 681 short stayers last year.

Tourists this year will have changed habits, won't be so conspicuous, won't help many of the classes of occupations that formerly fattened from them. But apparently the genius tourist has the persistence of Columbia river salmon; both will get where they want to go, come war, high water, dams.—Fuller's Florida Letter.

and gals who turn in nice work on this piece. Story is the 1942 saga of heroic torpedos lost along the Florida coast. Every one of them, heroes, risking their necks every time they go to sea, and risking their heads every time they come ashore. I'm pretty sure you'll get a bang out of it!

On this same program comes Jim Cunningham, you know him—He was once All-American football player last year, and recently appeared in "Sundown Jim." This time he is doing a number of galloping drams, with Sheila Ryan lending the feminine support and a gang of real cowboys assisting. The story is interesting. His supporting cast is good—The direction is flawless—You've had a squirt at him last week, so that's all I'm going to say about this football hero who turned actor.

Priby features two action pictures. I place my finger on "Secret Agent of Japan." Preston Foster and Lynn Bari unravel this plot, assisted by some clever supporting actors, including some Chinese actors who do some fine portrayals of detestable Japs. (I'll bet those Chinese rubbed the job of show business Japs in their true colors.)

"Story is about a cave owner, played by Preston Foster, who assists Lynn Bari to get some secret information about the enemy valuable to the American and British governments. Before the information is gained the enemy valiantly keeps up the raising experience which will keep you busy plastering your toupe back on your head. Yes, it's a honey for a while."

"Man From Headquarters" on the same program features Frank Albertson (Not well known) and Woodbury, who has been seen in some clever roles. "They don't dare kill a reporter." Said the editor to his reporter. But every reporter knows there'll be a bullet with his name on it if he mingles too far the finger on some of the underworld. Reported in this story finds that out through a shocking surprise. The whole picture will be shocking to you.

The Sea-shooters Club will come galloping Saturday, with oiled six-guns loose at the hips, spurred and booted and ready for the thrill of a lifetime when Buck Jones and Tim McCoy, two ace Western toughies, roar onto the screen in "Gunman From Boddy" which is a grand spree of wide open action, affording these two hair-trigger thrillers ample opportunity to display every trick they hold in the bag.

By the bye, this is the 15th and final chapter of Jungle Girl. Boy, I can say, I've been waiting all day to see how she is going to come out! I'll bet those dirty wags and so's will be sorry they caused her and her pals all the trouble they have when this last chapter ends. There's a short on this program, "Sup 'Em Japs" Boys and gals, the foundations of the building will shake with laughter when this one is presented.

We that's the for the week. You can purchase War Bonds at the Prince or Everglades Theatres through the cashier—And you get a complimentary ticket with each bond. How about that? See you at the movies—MAL

TREE RICHES
As I come near the end of my Journey,
Near the end of my road on this Earth;
As I look over the road I have traveled,
Do I see anything of real worth?

As I see how I dealt with my neighbor,
I am sure he will call me his friend;
For whenever he needed a favor,
I have always been ready to lend.

Thus I figure my life's inventory
In true riches of more value than gold;
And although I know not what's before me,
A great peace and good faith I still hold.

A great peace and good faith I still hold.

Urges Hunters To Use Care In Firing Near Phone Wires

Broken Wire or Insulator May Interrupt Vital War Calls

Hunters are requested to be doubly cautious this season when in the vicinity of telephone lines, lest their gunshots accidentally damage vital telephone equipment which must be kept working full time in interest of the war effort. With the armed forces and war industries depending so heavily on telephone communications, it is especially important that every line be kept in service at all times. To do this, it is essential to keep the equipment free of damage. Shots fired near telephone wires or cables may miss their mark and accidentally cut a wire. A hunter should be especially careful when using a shotgun, as the noise of the shot may startle a wireman at work.

E. C. Bowen, district manager of Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph Company, says that caution against accidental damage to telephone facilities is just another of the simple but vitally important ways in which civilians can help assure the best possible telephone service for the calls of war.

Graham Credited For Small Boats

Washington, D. C., Oct. 8.—(FNS)—Senator Ernest R. Graham, who represents Dade County in the nation's capital, has long advocated the use of speedy small craft as a means of combating the submarine menace.

In spite of consistent objections from Washington bureaucrats and military officials, he doggedly kept plugging for his plan and was rewarded last week when a committee of experts watched him craft perform in Florida waters.

The boat was built under the supervision of a technical committee named by President Paul H. Prigg of the National Boat Builders' Association.

Prigg frankly gives Graham credit for advancement of the plan and for the idea of a swarm of fast, small boats, and says: "Senator Graham kept pushing the idea in Washington until officials were forced to listen. He is largely responsible for the progress in these waters."

The new boat has 26 different uses besides that of sub-chaser. It can be produced by small plants at the rate of 18,000 a year.

Materials going into its construction are largely non-essential. It is very speedy and has a good range. A sufficient number stationed at regular intervals along the Gulf and Atlantic coasts would make it mighty tough for subs to operate with any success in these waters.

HILLER GUESSED WRONG
ALL DAY

We were supposed to be a nation of sissies—to be conquered easily from "within". Instead, we've all been pitching in to lick the Axis. Hiller guessed wrong again.

Take the electric repair dealers, for instance. They realized that one of the main jobs on the home front was to keep your electrical equipment operating—that the days of scripping a broken appliance and buying a new one were past.

So they've pledged to render you skillful, courteous and efficient wartime repair service . . . to do anything humanly possible to see you through the "duration".

See the repair dealer who displays the Wartime Service Plan symbol for an appliance check-up today. Hiller won't like it.

What The Movies Have To Offer During The Coming Week

I am leading off this week with "Rings On Her Fingers," which moves into the Prince Theatre Sunday. Monday, with Henry Fonda (Gene Tierney, John Shepperd and Laird Craig, heading the stellar cast. In the story Henry gets hooked just like any other male sucker, by a gal who lies to him, cheats him and generally mistreats him, like an adult taking candy from a baby. Henry goes for all this in a big way. "Well, a cutie like Gene could take any of us boys for a ride, and we'd like it. At any rate, it's the funniest story since Eve double-crossed Adam out of his rib, and it'll keep you laughing till your upper and lower clasp together like castanets. Yes, by all means see it!"

On Tuesday Rosalind Russell and Fred MacMurray are teamed in a great comedy titled, "Take a Letter, Darling." McDonald Carey and Robert Benchley. Constance Moore and Cecil Kellaway lend expert support to the latter part with some excellent portrayals. Unwinding the tale is about a ho-hum named Freddie whom Rosalind engages as a private secretary. Freddie knows nothing about this sort of thing but he can wear tails, dance well and has a "catch" way with the ladies. Bring gold at home, work with office hours from 9 p. m. until—Freddie proves a wad in this delightful job. It's a swell comedy and you'll love every minute of it!

At least you have got one good show on the double-featured set-up on Wednesday-Thursday. That one is "Torpedo Boat" and it stars a swell actor for such action stuff as the story offers, assisted by Jean Parker and some other guys.

And Cecil Kellaway lend expert support to the latter part with some excellent portrayals. Unwinding the tale is about a ho-hum named Freddie whom Rosalind engages as a private secretary. Freddie

Whitehair Studies For Foreign Duty

New York, Oct. 8 (FNS)—Francis Whitehair, Deland attorney, it was revealed this week, is one of a group of 10 naval officers receiving special training at Columbia University to fit them for posts of military governors of conquered territory. The men were selected through nationwide competitive examinations for this special administrative training against the day when "Old Glory" will wave over territory now in enemy hands which must be governed by military authority until civilian rule can be re-established.

When the time turns, press dispatches may flash the word that Francis Whitehair has been named military governor of some distant land—Florida, in the Solomon, for example.

PAHOKEE

BELLE GLADE

MEET ON THE GRIDIRON

Tonight at 8:30

Tonight's game will mark the beginning of what we hope will be a long and friendly rivalry between the two teams. Naturally, players and supporters of both teams want to win the game. However, the good sportsmanship displayed between the two groups will be of far more importance than the number of touchdowns made.

You've been GOOD SOLDIERS Too!

Thanks...for understanding that wartime conditions change travel

ALL "good soldiers" aren't in the army. For that term describes millions of civilians who have accepted war's inconveniences cheerfully. With all transportation strained to the limit, and buses carrying peak loads, small inconveniences sometimes occur. We're doing our utmost to make your travel as pleasant as possible, and later on travel as you like it will return. In the meantime, the war effort comes first. And to all America's "good soldiers" at home we say, sincerely: "Thanks for your patient understanding."
